FROM FATHER RANING

Let people hear it: Fritz Kreisler (1875-1962), the world-famous violinist, earned a fortune with his concerts and compositions, but he generously gave most of it away. So, when he discovered an exquisite violin on one of his trips, he wasn't able to buy it. Later, having raised enough money to meet the asking price, he returned to the seller, hoping to purchase that beautiful instrument. But to his great dismay it had been sold to a collector. Kreisler made his way to the new owner's home and offered to buy the violin. The collector said it had become his prized possession and he would not sell it. Keenly disappointed, Kreisler was about to leave when he had an idea. "Could I play the instrument once before it is consigned to silence?" he asked. Permission was granted, and the great virtuoso filled the room with such heart moving music that the collector's emotions were deeply stirred. "I have no right to keep this violin to myself," he exclaimed. "It's yours, Mr. Kreisler. Take it into the world, and let people hear it."

By sending each one of us as his messengers and ambassadors to the people around us with his "good news" Jesus gives us the same instruction.

Bethel

Located about fourteen miles north of Jerusalem, Bethel (Hebrew, "house of God") was a sacred site dating back to the time of Abraham, who built an altar there (Genesis 12:8) and Jacob, who had his famous dream there of the ladder to heaven (Genesis 28:10-20). It was a place for worship, national assembly, and prophetic activity before these functions were taken over by Jerusalem and its temple under King David.

First Reading: Amos recounts how God came to him amidst his regular job and commissioned him to witness.

When has God's presence in my regular tasks prompted me to do something new?

Second Reading: Paul reminds us that God has chosen us, adopted, and lavished many gifts on us.

For which gifts am I especially thankful today?

Gospel: Jesus commissions the disciples to begin sharing in Christ's work.

To whom is Christ sending me now to bring his healing power?
