FROM FATHER RAINING

A story was told that when Admiral Lord Nelson who was buried in St Paul's Cathedral, a party of his sailors carried his body high into the cathedral. His coffin was draped with a magnificent Union Jack. Later they carried his body to the graveside. One who saw the scene writes, "With reverence and with efficiency they lowered the body of the world's greatest admiral into its tomb. Then as though answering to a sharp order from the quarter deck, they all seized the Union Jack with which the coffin had been covered and tore it to fragments, and each took his souvenir of the illustrious dead." All their lives that little bit of coloured cloth would speak to them of the admiral they had loved. "I've got a piece of him," they said, "and I'll never forget him."

In a sense, when we leave this Church after receiving Jesus in Holy Communion, each of us will take Jesus with us and convey the spiritual nourishment he gives us to others as we come into contact with them. The "Eu" in Eucharist, as the Lord's Supper is often called, means "good," and "charis" is the root of our English word "caress." The Lord's Supper is the "good caress." In this Sacrament God comes to us spiritually and physically and touches us and says, "I love you." He alone touches and satisfies our deepest needs. He alone allows us to reach out and touch one another.

First Reading: God feeds the Israelites in the wilderness.
When has God provided for me in recent weeks?

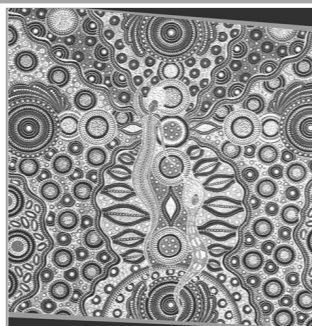

Second Reading: Paul encourages us to adopt a new way of life modelled on Christ.
What might I do to be more like Christ today?

Gospel: Jesus says he is the bread that gives us life.
How has Jesus nourished my life this week?
